

Shaam-E-Sarhad Village Resort

www.hodka.in

A spectacular landscape. Timeless culture. Priceless art. And the artists, your hosts.

Presenting, an incomparable experience for the artist, explorer, humanist in you. A holiday that takes the 't' out of 'tour' and makes you 'our'. Live simply, sustainably and in harmony with the local culture - and experience what the typical tourist can never get:

Unique Hospitality. You will be the honoured guest of the Hodka community—who own, build and run the Shaam-e-Sarhad ('Sunset on the Border') resort, in collaboration with hospitality professionals. Look forward to a range of things to do & experience...

Culture. Banni is renowned for its 'designer' architecture - perfected by the local communities over centuries. Kutchi embroidery is famed around the world. However, what you can discover is the other traditional Kutchi crafts - leather, clay, wood, metal and mud work - especially the exquisite silver jewellery. Shop direct from artisans and swap stories with them.

Another undiscovered cultural treasure for you to explore is the wonderful folk Music. Needless to add, you can use Hodka as your base to explore the myriad fascinations that make Kachchh truly captivating Nature. Hodka is located in the Banni grassland, right on the edge of the great salt desert—the Rann. The skies are clear and the nights are spectacular. There is an amazing Variety of flora and fauna, and in winter, expect to see migratory birds as well. Explore the geological marvel Kala Dunghar ('Black Hill'), perfect for day treks. Drive to the last 'civilian point', India Bridge, before the India-Pakistan border.

History. Kutch is a living museum in more ways than one: it has several geological landmarks that visually tell the story of the formation of the continents and prehistoric life. It also has sites of Indus Valley settlements that are in excellent states of preservation, some of them yet being unearthed. And finally, the peoples and their culture exist virtually untouched from millennia. Share a cup of chai or a meal with survivors of the 2001 earthquake, in their reconstructed homes.

Promoters. This unique venture is promoted jointly by the Ministry of Tourism, Government of India, the United Nations Development Programme through the District Collector and facilitated by the tourism promotional group of zealous people. of zealous people.

Facilities. You can choose to stay in Tents or a Traditional Bhunga-both with attached bathroom and running water. Room service is available for snacks & beverages. Craft shopping is possible on site.

Other services on request (not included in package):

Pick up and drop facility to & from Bhuj. Lunch can be arranged on request. Local guides of craft, local bio-diversity And architecture can be accompany you to nearby places of Interest, all at prevailing rates.

Contact us at:

Resort Address:
Shaam-e-Sarhad Village Resort!

Endogenous Tourism
Hodka Village, Banni,
Bhuj (Kachchh), PIN 370 510
Gujarat, INDIA

Voice - 91.2803.296222

Email: hodka.in@gmail.com Website: www.hodka.in

Be Our Guest...